

Support when you need it most

Please consider taking advantage of the assistance being offered to you through Goldman Sachs Ayco's SurvivorSupport® financial counseling service. SurvivorSupport® advisors understand your company benefits, the financial decisions you may need to make, and how to help as you make those decisions during this time.

Personal assistance and a plan

One-on-one session

A Goldman Sachs Ayco advisor will review your financial situation and help you as you resolve issues. Our advisors are selected not only for their financial-planning knowledge and experience, but also for their caring and sensitivity.

Personal financial plan

Following your initial counseling session, you'll receive a detailed letter summarizing the topics discussed and prioritizing issues requiring attention.

Follow-up support

For 12 months after the counseling session, you'll have direct, toll-free access to your Goldman Sachs Ayco financial counseling team to address issues as they arise, or as additional information becomes available.

Goldman Sachs Ayco's website

You will also have 12 months of access to Goldman Sachs Ayco's website. This site allows you to collaborate with the Goldman Sachs Ayco financial counseling team through the secure sharing of documents.

We're sensitive to your situation

This service is an employer-provided benefit designed to help you navigate complex financial issues following the loss of a loved one. Our counselors have helped countless clients answer questions such as:

- Where do I begin with all this paperwork?
- What, if anything, do I do with the will?
- Can I maintain my current standard of living?
- Will my decisions have tax implications?
- Do I need to create a new estate plan?
- Do I need a new life insurance policy? If so, how much and what type?
- How much Social Security am I eligible for, and how long will it be paid?
- Are there other factors I should consider in making decisions about employee benefits?

SurvivorSupport® is designed to coordinate the efforts of your company's human resources team, your attorney, accountant, and insurance agent or broker.

We'll work together to help you as you make financial decisions.

Goldman Sachs Ayco provides a variety of financial counseling, investment advisory, investment education and other services. Goldman Sachs Ayco's counseling services may consist of, among other things, assisting the counseled individuals in developing a comprehensive program designed to maximize the benefits of their employers' existing compensation and fringe benefit programs, to conserve the counseled individual's assets, to manage income long-term basis and/or to develop an individual retirement program and estate plan.

The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. is engaged in businesses and has interests other than providing financial counseling services to individuals. This includes the management and sale of investment funds and other financial products that may be recommended to counseled individuals, and investment activities and business operations that may affect such funds or products. Goldman Sachs Ayco and its counselors may receive various forms of compensation, commissions, payments, rebates, and services related to sponsoring, managing, or selling investment products recommended to counseled individuals. This may incentivize Goldman Sachs Ayco and its counselors to recommend such products over others which might also be appropriate for counseled individuals.

Goldman Sachs Ayco may provide tax advice services to its clients. In addition, in its capacity as an investment advisor, Goldman Sachs Ayco may prepare reports that reflect a client's overall investment portfolio and financial position based on information provided to Goldman Sachs Ayco by its clients, which Goldman Sachs Ayco does not verify for accuracy or completeness. Goldman Sachs Ayco does not provide attest or compilation services and does not prepare, present, audit, review or examine prospective financial information or express any opinion as to the accuracy or validity of that information. Tax advice is provided as part of Goldman Sachs Ayco's comprehensive financial planning services, which are not related to the preparation or presentation of financial statements. Certain tax matters may require Goldman Sachs Ayco to consult with your tax counsel in formulating its tax advice. Goldman Sachs Ayco does not provide accounting advice. GS & Co. does not provide accounting or tax advice to its clients, unless explicitly agreed between the client and GS & Co. All clients should be aware that tax treatment is subject to change by law, in the future or retroactively, and clients should consult with their tax advisors regarding any potential strategy, investment or transaction.

Neither GS & Co. nor Goldman Sachs Ayco provide legal advice to their clients, and all clients should consult with their own legal advisor regarding any potential strategy, investment, financial plan, estate plan or with respect to their interest in any employee benefit or retirement plan.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

Under certain of Goldman Sachs Ayco's financial counseling programs, Goldman Sachs Ayco may recommend securities or investment products, including those offered by its affiliates. This could lead to conflicts of interest of which you should be aware. The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc., Goldman Sachs Ayco, and their affiliates and employees (collectively, "Goldman Sachs") are engaged in businesses and have interests other than providing financial counseling services to individuals. This includes the management and sale of investment funds and other financial products that may be recommended to counseled individuals, and investment activities and business operations that may affect such funds or products.

Goldman Sachs, Goldman Sachs Ayco and its counselors may receive various forms of compensation, commissions, payments, rebates and services related to sponsoring, managing or selling investment products recommended to counseled individuals. This may incentivize Goldman Sachs Ayco or its affiliates and their employees to recommend such products over others which might also be appropriate for counseled individuals. Goldman Sachs' arrangements with outside managers may differ, and currently Goldman Sachs, Goldman Sachs Ayco and its counselors receive greater compensation for accounts managed by Goldman Sachs affiliates than in connection with separate accounts managed by non-Goldman Sachs entities.

Under certain of Goldman Sachs Ayco's financial counseling programs, Goldman Sachs Ayco may recommend securities or investment products, including those offered by its affiliates. This could lead to conflicts of interest of which you should be aware. Goldman Sachs Ayco or its affiliates may engage in insurance consulting or the insurance agency business for purposes of offering insurance contracts to counseled individuals, including variable life insurance contracts for which Goldman Sachs Ayco or its counselors may receive various forms of compensation. In addition, investment advisors of investment funds and products that may be offered to counseled individuals also may have other clients, businesses, and interests in addition to managing the assets of such product. Present and future activities of Goldman Sachs and other advisers in addition to those described in this supplement may give rise to additional conflicts of interest. More information regarding Goldman Sachs Ayco's business practices and conflicts is set forth in Goldman Sachs Ayco's Form ADV brochure, which is available upon request.
